

John O'S Francis, MBA

John O's Francis is the President and CEO of Solar & Environmental Jobs Workshop. As a biostatistician, he has been a clinical researcher and publisher. He is involved in a number of renewable energy activities.

Mr. Francis was formerly a Health Budgetary Executive at the White House OMB, Washington, D.C. where he had budgetary responsibilities for: National Institute of Mental Health, Health Services Research & Development, National Health Statistics, Federal Hospitals (Army, Navy, Air Force, Public Health Service, and VA Hospitals) and others.

His areas of research as clinical researcher and publisher as biostatistician include diabetes, arthritis, kidney disease, kidney dialysis and blood sugar methodologies and analysis in the U.S. Public Health Service.

For the past several years he served as Advisory Board Chair of the Boston Area Health Education Center, a significant program of the Boston Public Health Commission which intervenes to enhance Middle and High School students who indicate their desire to prepare for the health/medical fields as early career choices.

He is a member of the City of Cambridge Green Jobs Task Force and Climate Protection Action Committee, member and former Vice Chair of the Northeast Sustainable Energy Association (NESEA) and member of the American Solar Energy Association, the Boston Area Solar Energy Association, and the World Association of Cooperative Education.

He was recently appointed to the Institutional Review Board (IRB) by the Dean of the Harvard School of Public Health (Human Subjects Committee).